PREFACE.

The gathering of the material from which this book is made, has occupied a portion of my leisure hours, at irregular intervals, during a score or more of years ; but it was only within a much shorter time that I decided upon its publication.

Although much of what appears in these pages is merely compilation, it is impossible for me to indicate, except in a general way, the persons to whom and the books to which I am indebted. I have made free use of the many genealogical works in the library of the Connecticut Historical Society in this city, and in the contiguous Watkinson Library ; I have also had access to the much larger collection of similar works in the library of the New England Historical and Genealogical Society in Boston, and to its invaluable quarterly magazine ; I have made personal examination of public records in Enfield, Lebanon, Willimantic, Somers, Windsor, Simsbury, and Hartford, in Connecticut ; in Springfield, West Springfield, Northampton, Greenfield, Westfield, New Marlborough, Sheffield, Great Barrington, and Pittsfield, in Massachusetts ; in Bellows Falls, Vermont, and in Cooperstown, New York. I have had examinations made for me amongst the United States Old War Pension Records in Washington, and elsewhere, and I have visited numerous burying-grounds, copying inscriptions, and transcribed the records from many family Bibles.

My nephew, Mr. Henry K. Terry (page 190), of London, England, has had examinations made among the Canterbury Wills, and among the books and papers of the British Museum, State Paper Office, Goldsmiths' Hall, and Somerset House, in London, and the records of the neighboring parishes of Old Barnet, New Barnet, East Barnet, Fryern Barnet, Monken Hadley, Whetstone, Totteridge, Bushey, and Enfield, the results of which he had privately printed in a little book entitled "The English Founders of the Terry Family." Although his investigations have not been fruitful in results, it is a satisfaction to have had them made, and Mr. Terry is justly entitled to the thanks of all American Terrys for what he has done in the matter.

My principal aim has been to collect the records of the descendants of Samuel Terry of Springfield ; but in so doing I have incidentally and necessarily acquired a good deal of information about other families of Terrys, which I have incorporated into my book, deeming it too valuable not to be made accessible to other inquirers.

I should have been glad to have inserted longer biographical sketches of many of the members of these families, and particularly so to have noted more fully their military and naval services. This I may still do in a future revision. That I have not done so here, is owing largely to a lack of co-operation on the part of those conversant with the facts or in the best positions to learn them, and to an unwillingness to make a few families unduly conspicuous.

Use has been made of the usual abbreviations, b. for born, d. for died or dead, m. for married, and occasionally other simple ones too obvious to require explanation. Where an initial letter is used for the name of a place, it stands for the place named at the head of that family, or for the last-named place having that initial. In many cases the omission to mention changes of place of living may be supplied, partly at least, by noting in the next generation the birth-places of the children. The sign + signifies that the persons with whose names it is used had children, some account of whom may be found in the next generation, in their regular sequence. Numbers were prefixed to the names mainly for purposes of cross-reference in manuscript, and therefore have not generally been used with names of children known to have died under the age of fifteen years.

The dates in this book, earlier than September 21, 1752 (except such as have been reformed without my knowledge), are stated in Old Style. To find the equivalent dates New Style, add ten days to dates prior to March, 1700, and eleven days to subsequent dates ; also, when double-year figures occur with January, February, or March, read the last one only.

I can but regret that my slight knowledge of book-making, acquired in making this one, came too late to be available in its publication.

After having sent my circular and other letters about the country for so long a time, and after having received so many inquiries as to when my book was coming out, I had begun to feel that there might be a growing doubt as to the sincerity of my purpose therein stated ; but as this publication will remove that doubt, it is my hope that it may also be the means of procuring for me very much more additional information ; and I shall feel grateful to any one for corrections or additions to the work. Should such be received in considerable amount, I probably shall publish it either in additional leaves, or as a supplemental pamphlet, or possibly (and more likely, as I hope) revise the whole book.

In sending information, all names (including middle names) should be written out in full, and pet names and initials avoided. It is my wish to be informed concerning every man, woman, and child whose name is or was Terry, descended from Samuel Terry of Springfield, Mass., and every man, woman, and child of any other name whose mother was such a Terry ; and of each I wish to know, the name in full (no initials), the date and place of birth, the date and place of death (if not living), residence, changes of residence (if any), occupation, date and place of marriage, name in full of the man or woman to whom married, if married more than once the same of each marriage, whether it was the first marriage of the person to whom married, the full name of the father and the full maiden name of the mother of the person to whom married, the date and place of birth of the person to whom married, the date and place of death of the person to whom married (if not living), residence and occupation of men who marry into the family, and any special facts, such as military or naval services, offices held in church or state, educational institutions graduated from, inventions, notable deeds, etc., etc.

SAMUEL TERRY

OF SPRINGFIELD, MASS. 1650-1730.

Our earliest information about the founder of the family, with some of the records of which the following pages are mainly occupied, is derived from an old "Book of Public Records," now in the possession of the Hon. Henry Morris of Springfield, in which is written the original of the following agreement, with the actual signatures of the parties thereto:

The three next preceding documents, in the same old record book, are three much shorter agreements, each dated September 9, 1650, of Mr. Pynchon with Hugh Dudley, James Wells, and Edmund Foster, respectively; each of the three men last named being described as "of Barnett," assigning their respective contracts to other persons. Each of these agreements cite original contracts made in England, April 22, 1650, to run nine years from and after the arrival of the parties in this country; and state that their landing at Boston was July 2, 1650. They are not articles of apprenticeship, but contracts for labor for hire.

The Hon. William Pynchon was in England in the spring of 1650, and there made the contracts mentioned; and, doubtless, it was then he took into apprenticeship the boy Samuel Terry, who also may have been of Barnet, a village some eleven miles northward from the heart of London. The boy may have been an orphan, whose parents Mr. Pynchon had known; and it is unlikely that he would have taken such a boy for less than the entire term of his minority; accordingly, we may conclude that he was born about the year 1633 or 1634.* Almost immediately upon his return to this country, Mr. Pynchon became involved in difficulties with the colonial authorities, on account of the theological views set forth by him in a pamphlet that he had published, and, on that account, left the country the next year, never to return. Probably it was in contemplation of his departure, that he wished to relieve himself from his contracts as above stated.

*The late Mr. Savage, in his well-known genealogical dictionary, says of him: "Said to be brought in 1650, by Pynchon, from Barnet, eleven miles from London, where he was born, April, 1632." Curious to know on what basis this statement rested, I examined his papers, now in the library of the Massachusetts Historical Society, and found that his informant was the late Mr. Henry I. Wright of Hartford, Conn., who cited as his authority the very same old record from which I have taken my facts and drawn my conclusions. The conclusion that Samuel was born in the month of April, from the fact that his apprenticeship terminated in that month, seems hardly warranted, for I think it more likely that the indenture made in England was for the term of an even five years from its date, which probably was about the same as that of the Dudley, Wells, and Foster contracts; it is not impossible that they may have overlapped the time of his majority, and this may have been a reason for releasing the last year of service when assigning to another for a valuable consideration.

The next thing known about Samuel Terry is that, January 7, 1654-5, the town of Springfield granted to him ten acres of land on "Chickkuppee Plain," on condition that he remain in the town five years.

In 1658, there was some difficulty about the land just mentioned, owing to conflicting grants and the lack of surveys, when the claim was set up that he had forfeited his title to it by leaving the town.

January 3, 1660-1, he married Ann Lobdell, and this year the town settled with him for his claim to the land aforesaid, by making him a grant a little further north. It is not known who Ann Lobdell was; there was a Simon Lobdell living in Springfield at that time who may have been her brother or other kin, but he could not have been her father, as his family is known, and were under marriageable age.

In 1663, he was granted some land at Worrnoco (now Westfield), on the south side of the river; also some land at "Askkanunksuck," by the north side of Agawam River, half way to Worrnoco.

In 1664, he was granted some land at Fresh Water Brook (now Enfield, Conn.), he releasing his Worrnoco grant. He still owned his land at Chicopee Plain, and his name appeared in a list of the allowed and admitted inhabitants of Springfield.

In 1665, he was granted thirty acres of upland, along by his meadow land, beyond Chicopee Plain.

In 1668, he was one of the signers of a petition to the general court remonstrating against the imposts on the river traffic, established by the Connecticut colony.

In 1670, he and several others were assessed two loads of fire-wood each, for the use of their pastor; a few were assessed one load, and a few three or four loads.

In 1673, he is shown to have been in Springfield, by the record of an arrest he assisted in making while taking his turn as night watch.

In 1678, he was appointed a surveyor of highways.

His name, and that of his son Samuel, appears in a list of persons who took the oath of allegiance, Dec. 31, 1678, and Jan. 1, 1678-9.

In 1681, he took as an apprentice, until twenty-one years of age, John Matthews, an infant of ten months. There is also a mention of him this year as a former constable; and this year, also, his son Samuel received a grant of forty acres of land at Fresh Water Brook.

At this point in his story, 1681, it takes but a very moderate flight of the imagination to get from the foregoing and following facts, a mental view of his surroundings. He was a man about forty-seven years old, living in Springfield, on the west side of Main street, about thirty-five rods north of the present corner of Cypress street; by trade a linen weaver, but also something of a farmer, fairly well-to-do in life, and esteemed by his neighbors; his eldest son Samuel, was a young man of twenty, helping in his father's work, and courting Miss Hannah, the daughter of their neighbor Miles Morgan, whom he married the next year; his son Thomas was a youth of sixteen, his daughter Mary a lass of thirteen, Ephraim a lad of ten, his second daughter Rebecca in her eighth year, and his youngest child Anne large enough to run about and prattle, while little Johnny Matthews a babe in arms, with Mrs. Ann Terry, the good mother and housewife, completed the group.

The next year, 1682, his son Samuel married, and probably soon left the paternal roof to make for himself a new home in Enfield (now in Connecticut), on the land that had been granted him the year before.

In 1683, he had apportioned to him seven acres of land in Enfield.

In May, 1684, his wife died, as did also, a few months later, little Johnny Matthews.

In 1685, he was one of a town committee to establish boundaries between Springfield and adjoining new towns; and the records of the matter speak of him as Serg't. Samuel Terry; in the discharge of these duties he had the pleasure of meeting his own son, Samuel, Jr., who was one of the Enfield committee.

In 1690, his daughter Mary, who we may presume had been since her mother's death the housekeeper, was married, and a fortnight later, November 19th, he himself married Sarah, widow of John Scott, and daughter of Thomas and Margaret (Lawrence?) Bliss, whose age was a year or two less than his own.

In 1693, he made an agreement to teach the art of weaving to his step-son, Ebenezer Scott, whence it appears that he was still practicing it himself. He was also chosen a constable again this year.

His second marriage proved unhappy; in 1694, he and his wife had parted, for causes which do not appear, and she was granted exclusive administration of the estate of her former husband. Whether they ever lived together again, or where his home was after this, is unknown. It is a tradition in the family, that he lived in Enfield, and it may be that his later years were passed in the home of his eldest son.

Sept. 27, 1705, his wife Sarah died.

In 1730, administration of his estate was granted to his sons Samuel and Thomas, and in the record of the matter, he is called "husbandman," "formerly of Springfield." This was doubtless the year of his death.

In a few other instances his name appears on the ancient records, but nothing more has been found of importance or shedding additional light on his career.

He signed his name with a free hand as one much in the habit of writing, when many of his neighbors could neither read nor write; which fact, taken in connection with other facts stated, renders it probable that he was better taught than most boys, and better educated than most men of his time. Men who attain so great age as he, are apt to be of good size, with long bodies, large features, and much physical strength.

It is the unanimous testimony of historians, that in those early days, the holding of any public office was a mark of distinction; that of constable was specially so, and surveyors of highways and boundary committees, must have been selected for their fitness; military office, in those times of peril from Indian uprisings and massacres, was an unmistakable mark of the confidence of his fellowmen in his ability and bravery.

Diligent searches of parish and probate records, in Barnet, Enfield, and elsewhere in England, conducted by Mr. H. K. Terry, now of London, have failed to discover any trace of this Samuel Terry, prior to his appearance in New England, in 1650. From a little book published by him, entitled "The English Founders of the Terry Family," embodying the results of his investigations, is taken the following extract. "There are four places named Barnet now, — Old Barnet, New Barnet, East Barnet, and Fryern Barnet. Close by are also Monken Hadley, Whetstone, Totteridge, and Bushy. At three of those named Barnet, we found traces of the Terry family in existence, two hundred and fifty years ago; and a family of that surname, though no relation that we are aware of, resides near Barnet at the present time."

159. Ephriam; b. in Lebanon, Conn., about 1742; d. in Nova Scotia Apr. 27, 1833, in his 91st year; m. in L. Dec. 24, 1772, Ann Johnson, dau. of 136, who was b. in L. Feb. 21, 1752, and who d. in N. S. Nov. 7, 1819. He was a shoe-maker, and owned a small farm at Terry's Creek, N. S. He is called Ephriam, Jr., in the L. records, and would have been identified with 139, but for the family claim to the contrary. +

160. William; b. June 28, 1745; d. in the city of New York; m. in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 6, 1774, Ruth Smith, who was b. Mar. 8, 1755. He is believed to have been a hatter, and lived in P. +

The following persons were baptized in Lebanon, Conn., but there is no way of determining to which family they belonged. There can be little doubt that they were of this generation, and there is no trace of any other Terrys in Lebanon at this period than those of this stock. [My conjecture is that most of these were children of Samuel 32. — S. T.]

161. Elisha; bap. Aug. 8, 1743. Either he or 165 is probably the Elisha that married in New Marlborough, Mass., May 1, 1777, Phebe, dau. of a Granger, and wid. of Dr. Asa Hopkins, of N. M., and who was born about 1746. She d. in Groton, N. Y., Apr. 14, 1837. They removed from N. M. to Homer, N. Y., about 1798, where he d. about 1810 or 1811. He was a blacksmith and wheelwright; and after their removal to H. he and his stepson, Moses Hopkins, made spinning wheels, reels, etc. He served eight months in

Captain Moses Soul's company in Colonel John Fellows's Massachusetts regiment, from Apr. 21, 1775; and two weeks in Aug., 1777, under Lieutenant Samuel Warner, in Colonel John Ashley's Massachusetts regiment. In July, 1780, he enlisted for three months in Captain Samuel Warner's company in Colonel John Brown's Massachusetts regiment. A part of his service was in the Mohawk Valley at Fort Stanwix (now Rome, N. Y.) +

162. Lucy; bap. Aug. 8, 1743.

163. Jerusha; bap. Nov. 4, 1744; d. Apr. 26, 1781; m. in L. May 29, 1766, Daniel Taylor. They lived in New Marlborough, Mass. +

164. John; bap. June 29, 1746. He is probably the John that m. in L. Sept. 12, 1771, Mary, dau. of Peleg Sanford and Mary (Stanton) Mason, was b. Mar. 22, 1751.

165. Elisha; bap. June 5, 1748. He may have been the Elisha of New Marlborough, Mass., instead of 161.

166. Ephriam; bap. June 21, 1748. Perhaps the same as 159.

167. Sarah; bap. Feb. 18, 1750.

168. Sarah; bap. 1753.

PUTNAM COUNTY, N. Y.

There are families of Terrys that have diverged from Putnam County, N. Y. It is impossible to harmonize the conflicting statements, but the following is as coherent an account of them as the writer has been able to compile.

[See Samuel, 8, page 9; also Rev. Samuel, in Appendix.]

1. Samuel Terry is said to have been an officer in the Revolutionary war (another account says French war), that he left his home in Carmel, N. Y., and went to Schenectady to pay off his men, and died there, and that his widow journeyed on horse-back from Carmel to Troy to attend his funeral. +

2. Mary, sister of the preceding, born perhaps about 1728, married Joseph Ogden. Her father, who is said to have been a clergyman, opposed her marriage because Ogden was poor, and it was a run-away match; but notwithstanding this the marriage proved to be a happy one, and Mr. Ogden became a prosperous man.

SECOND GENERATION.

FAMILY OF SAMUEL (1) TERRY, OF CARMEL, N. Y.

3. Samuel; b. prob. about 1750; d. Feb. 28, or Mar. 1, 1813, in C. (or as another has it, in Fridricks Town, Dutchess Co., N. Y.); m. Sarah Ogden, dau. of 2, who was b. about 1748, and d. in Kent, Putnam Co., N. Y. (or in Fridricks Town about 1830). He was a farmer and miller. +

WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS.

There are Terrys living in Williamstown, Mass., or that have diverged from there, who are perhaps descendants of Samuel Terry, of Springfield, but whom it is impossible directly to connect, owing, it may be, to inaccuracy or insufficiency of information. The following is a brief account of them :

1. Reuben ; was b. June 30, 1756, and, as it is thought, in Enfield, Conn. His father's name is believed to have been Benjamin, or Reuben (could it have been Reuben, p. 22?), and his mother's maiden name was Eggleston. His parents died while he was a boy, and he went to live with his uncle Thomas, and removed with him from Connecticut to Williamstown, Mass., where he lived and married, first, Mary Ann Watson, who bore him a daughter. About 1804 he removed to Frankfort, N. Y., where his wife and daughter died. There he married, second, Catharine, daughter of Benjamin Moon, and widow of a Grey. She was of a Rhode Island family, of Dutch extraction, and was born on the water off the Connecticut coast, July 4, 1776, and died in Lowell, Wis., Oct., 1864. He d. in Pittsfield, Mass., about 1850. He was a small farmer on the Pittsfield side of a highway dividing Pittsfield from Dalton. +

STEPHEN TERRY.

Stephen Terry, according to Savage, came in 1630, probably in the "Mary and John." He settled in Dorchester, Mass., where he was admitted as a freeman May 18, 1631, and held the office of constable. About 1636, he removed to Windsor, Conn., where he lived for some years. He was several times a member of the grand jury, and of the jury of "life and death," served on committees for laying out highways, and held the office of constable. About 1660, he removed to Hadley, Mass., being one of its "first settlers," was the first constable of the place, and afterwards was a selectman. He was rated at £200, and had nearly nine acres of land assigned to him. None of his townsmen were rated higher, but several were rated the same. He was married in Dorchester, but lost his wife by death, in Windsor, June, 1647. He died in Hadley Sept., 1668, leaving a widow named Elizabeth, and from the fact that she died about 1683, aged about ninety years, and their probable relative ages, we may conjecture that he was born as early as about 1590. Perhaps Hadley was the name of his native place in England.

THOMAS TERRY,

OF FREETOWN, MASS.

Lieutenant Thomas Terry was probably of English birth. He first appears in Braintree, Mass. At a quarter court held in Boston, Dec. 4, (1638?) "Thomas Terry was enjoined to appear at the courte to answer further." What this was for does not appear, nor is there any further reference to it. He lived on Block Island, and was made a freeman of Rhode Island, 1664, and was a deputy in the General Court of that colony, 1665. He was foremost in obtaining township charter for Block Island, 1672. He was one of the first board of selectmen of Freetown, Mass., elected June 2, 1685, and was reëlected, 1686-90. He was commissioned as Lieut. June 4, 1686. He was a representative to the General Court, 1689; and about that time was the largest tax-payer in Freetown. He died in Freetown about 1702. His wife, Ann, died about 1704. The following is a very imperfect sketch of his descendants:

1. Thomas; eldest son of Thomas and Ann; d., 1757; m. Jan. 4, 1699-1700, Abigail Dean. He lived in Freetown, Mass. He became Lieut. of the Freetown militia about 1715, was chosen a selectman in 1705, and held the office twenty-four years; he was elected an assessor in 1704, and held the office eighteen years; he was chosen town treasurer Mar. 17, 1713, and served seven years; he was a representative to the Gen. Court, 1725; July 22, 1720, he was commissioned as a justice of the peace, and held that office during the rest of his life. +

2. John; brother of the preceding; m. Apr. 3, 1705, Remember, dau. of John Farrow, of Hingham, Mass., who was b. Feb. 3, 1682, and d., 1719. He died before 1716, as in that year his widow re-married. +

3. Benjamin; brother of the preceding; m. Margaret

4. Thomas; son of Thomas (1) and Abigail; unmarried. He was insane.

5. Abiel; brother of the preceding; b. Dec. 3, 1714; m. Hannah Tisdale. He lived in Freetown, Mass., was town clerk twelve years, selectman eight years, assessor nine years, and a justice of the peace from 1762 to 1765. He was commissioned a captain, a little later as major, and in 1759 as lieutenant-colonel. +

6. Lydia; sister of the preceding.

7. John; son of John (2) and Rember. +

8. Silas; brother of the preceding. He was a shoemaker. +

9. Abiel; son of Abiel (5) and Hannah; b. July 3, 1740; m. Hannah Foster. Just before the Revolutionary War he was commissioned as a captain of cavalry. +

10. Zebadee; brother of the preceding; b. Sept. 11, 1741. He was elected town clerk of Freetown, Mass., 1767, and served that office eight years. He was one of the Loyalists of the Revolution, and went to Halifax in 1776, and in 1778 he was proscribed and banished; but it is thought that he finally returned, and died near his old home in Mass.

11. Zephaniah; son of John (7); m. Hope ———. +

12. Remember; dau. of Silas (8); b. Apr. 26, 1728; m. 1st, July 25, 1746, David Davis, who was b. Jan. 9, 1721; m. 2d, William Hatheway.

13. Abiel; son of Abiel (9) and Hannah; b. in Assonet, Mass., June 23, 1785; d. in Middleport, N. Y., Apr., 1863; m. Aug. 20, 1807, Philena Tisdale, who d. in M. Mar., 1864.

He was a tanner and currier. He lived awhile in New Bedford, Mass., next in Lakeville, Mass., in 1813 removed to Lisle, N. Y., and in 1818 to Middleport. +

14. Silas; son of Zephaniah (11) and Hope. +

15. John; brother of the preceding; b. in Dighton, Mass., Mar. 9, 1774; d., 1831; m. Clarissa Dean, of Raynham, Mass. He was a sea-captain. +

16. Betty; sister of the preceding; b. Mar. 9, 1774; d. in Freetown, Mass., May 17, 1779.

17. Henry Tisdale; son of Abiel (13) and Philena; b. in New Bedford, Mass., Sept. 12, 1808; m. 1st, Sophia Bailey, of East Bloomfield, N. Y., who d. in Wyoming, N. Y., Nov. 15, 1868; m. 2d, Jan. 28, 1875, Miss Elizabeth Walsh. He was a school-teacher. He removed to Richmond, Mich. +

18. William Ennis; brother of the preceding; b. in Middleborough, Mass., Jan. 21, 1810; m. in Warsaw, N. Y., Aug. 27, 1848, Ann, dau. of William and Mary Smallwood, who was b. in Seaton Ross, Yorkshire, Eng., Oct. 15, 1817. He is a farmer and miller at Solomon Rapids, Mich. +

SOUTHERN TERRYS.

There are several families of TERRYS scattered throughout the Southern States that seem to have dispersed from Virginia, concerning whom we have been unable to get much accurate information extending even so far back as a hundred years; and there is apparently little hope of unraveling the tangle and finding their common origin without spending considerable time in that section of the country in the search. There may be records existing which the interested discoverer will find to contain sufficient information to well reward his patient research. The following are a few memoranda of some of these families that have been furnished by some of their members. It should be borne in mind by the reader that the births of the children in these families may not have occurred in the order of their arrangement here.

APPENDIX.

A.

AN ENGLISH FAMILY OF TERRYS.

1. John; d. May, 1637; m. Elizabeth, dau. of William Gale, and widow of Thomas Pierepoint, who was b. about 1569, and d. Feb. 7, 1654-5, aged eighty-five. He is described in his will "as citizen and goldsmith of London." He was a wealthy man, and is buried in St. Andrew's (formerly St. Ethelreda's) church, in Totteridge, a few miles north of London, Eng. Mr. Gale was also a wealthy citizen of London. +

2. Thomas; brother of the preceding.

3. James; brother of the preceding.

4. William; son of John (1) and Elizabeth. He was sole executor of his mother's will, 1655. +

5. John; brother of the preceding. Mentioned in his mother's will, dated June 10, 1650. +

6. Stephen; brother of the preceding. He was a witness to his father's will, dated Nov. 15, 1631, and therefore probably was not the Stephen of Dorchester, Mass., and of Windsor, Conn. (see p. 248), who took the "oath of freemen," May 18, 1631. He was mentioned in his mother's will also, and reference was therein made to his wife and children, whose names were not given.

7. Susanna; sister of the preceding; m. a Cooke.

8. Elizabeth; dau. of William (4); bap. in Totteridge, Mar. 6, 1625; prob. m. Jeremy Richardson. She is mentioned in her grandmother's will.

9. John; brother of the preceding; bap. in Totteridge, May 17, 1627.

10. William; brother of the preceding. Mentioned in his grandmother's will.

11. Elizabeth; dau. of John (5).

WILL OF JOHN TERRY.

In the name of God, Amen.

I Capt. John Terry, of the Township of Cornwallis, in Kings County, and Province of Nova Scotia, being in imperfect health of body, but of perfect mind and memory, thanks be given to God therefor, Calling to mind the mortality of my Body, and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, Do make and ordain this my last Will and testament; that is to say, principally and first of all I recommend my soul into the hands of almighty God that gave it, and my body I recommend to the Earth, to be burried in decent Christian Burial, at the discretion of my Executor hereafter named, nothing doubting but at the general resurrection I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God. And as touching such worldly Estate wherewith it hath pleased God to bless me in this life, I give, devise and dispose of the same in the following manner and form, after my just debts and funeral charges are fully paid.

Imprimis: I give and bequeath to my son Pern Terry all the lands that have been laid out to me of my share or right of lands in this Town of said Cornwallis, and all the buildings thereon, Together with all the lands I have purchased in said Township, to be by him freely possessed and enjoyed in full and every part thereof and by his Heirs and Assigns forever.

Item: I give and bequeath to my beloved Daughter Rachel, five hundred acres of land in the Township of Wilmot in the Province aforesaid, and to her Heirs and assigns forever.

Item: I give and bequeath to my beloved son Ephraim, five shillings, to be paid by my Executor. I having given him already by Deed of Gift, a thousand acres of land in said township of Wilmot.

Item: I give and bequeath to my beloved son William, all my undivided lands in said Township of Cornwallis, that is not yet laid out, meaning all the lands after my three hundred acre division (so called), and to his heirs and assigns forever.

Item: I give and bequeath to my last Deceased Wife's Daughter Lydia Chesborough (so called) by maiden name, five hundred acres of land, lying in said Township of Wilmot, being a part of the three thousand acres granted by Government as aforesaid, to be laid out in a straight line with the said five hundred acres given in this Will to my Daughter Rachel, the full length of said granted tract of Three Thousand acres, and to said Lydia's Heirs and Assigns forever; as also one Heiffer, or Cow, called her mother's Heiffer or Cow, likewise a new feather bed, Coverlet and blanket, with an Iron pot and kettle, one looking glass, one low case of Drawers, which was her said mother's.

Item: And all the remainder of my stock and other moveables, of what name or nature soever, I give and bequeath to my Grandson John Terry, eldest son of my said son Pern Terry, and to his Heirs and assigns forever.

And lastly, I do hereby Will and appoint, constitute and ordain, my beloved friend Capt. Elkanah Morton, sole Executor of this my last Will and testament, ratifying and allowing this my last Will, and no other, to be my last Will and testament.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal the second day of October, One Thousand seven hundred and Eighty-six.

John Terry (L. s.).

Signed, sealed, published, Pronounced and Declared by the said John Terry, to be his last Will and testament, in the presence of us, who in his presence and in the presence of each other have hereunto subscribed our names.

MISCELLANEOUS CITATIONS.

Rev. Samuel Terry, of Barrington, Mass., married Margaret, dau. of Jethro and Mary (Gardner) Coffin, who was born at Nantucket, June 10, 1689.—N. E. Hist. and Gen. Reg., vol. xxiv.—

Rev. Samuel Terry, of Barrington, R. I., and afterwards of Uxbridge, Mass., was dead 1764, how much before? He was a graduate of Harvard College.— Id., vol. xxxii, p. 232.

Samuel Terry, supplied the church in Hebron, 1714.— Contributions to the Eccl. Hist. of Conn.

The four preceding citations seem to refer to the same person, who may have been the eldest son of Capt. Samuel Terry, of Enfield, Conn. (see p. 9), and the head of the Putnam Co., N. Y., families (see number 2, page 234).

“And for the French churches, that we held and do hold communion with them, take notice of our practice at Leyden, viz., that one Samuel Terry was received from the French church there into communion with us.”— Winslow's Brief Narration.

The will of Mary Marshall, of London, Eng., widow, Jan. 16, 1715, mentions “My cousin Mary Terry, widow of Stephen Terry deceased,” also “My aforesaid cousin Mary Terry's son and daughter.” But for aught that appears the reference is to people living in England.— N. E. Hist. and Gen. Reg., vol. xxxiii, p. 218.

The will of John Bigg, of Maidston, Kent, Eng., made Aug. 17, 1640, makes a small bequest to “Marie Terrie in New England”; but contains no clue as to who she was, nor how related to the testator. See N. E. Hist. and Gen. Reg., vol. xxix, p. 253. Perhaps she was the first wife of Stephen, of Windsor, Conn. (see page 248).

Ant^o Terry, Thomas Terry, and Giles Terry, were among the “passengers for Virginia,” in the “Thomas and John,” in Jan., 1635. A writer in the N. E. Hist. and Gen. Reg., vol. v. p. 248, thinks some of the vessels bound for “Virginia” came to New England, and instances one person who perhaps came in the “Thomas and John.”

Jo: Terry, aged 32, was one of the list of passengers in the “Abigail,” 1 July, 1635.— N. E. Hist. and Gen. Reg., vol. xlv, p. 318. —

Joseph Terrey, Jr., was one of the Newport men made freemen by the Gen. Assem., 1668.— R. I. Col. Rec., Vol. I, p. —

James Terry, was a signer of a petition, as an inhabitant of New Hampshire, Feb. 20, 1689. See N. E. Hist. and Gen. Reg., vol. viii.

Terry. The diary of Noadiah Russell, tutor in Harv. Coll., under date of Apr. 6, 1682, mentions a man at Braintree who had been sick, and prophesied that Mr. Terry should be president of the college. — N. E. Hist. and Gen. Reg., vol. vii.

Josiah Terry and Sarah Mendall, Jan. 12, 1692.

Henry Terry, was a cook on the ship "Sampson" in Boston harbor, May 14, 1660. — N. E. Hist. and Gen. Reg., vol. xxxi, p. 331.

William Terry, in 1652, was one of those placed in a long seat in the church, a matter of some distinction. — Stiles' Hist. Windsor, Conn.

The following entries are gleaned from the old Windsor, Conn., church records, and from Stiles' Hist. of Windsor.

Josias Terey; d. Aug. 25, 1640.

Stephen Tery; d. Dec. 17, 1640.

Mary Tery; d., 1644.

Michell Tery's wife, d., 1646.

There was in Windsor, Conn., at this period, a Michael Try, or Tray (see Savage's Gen. Dict., vol. iv, p. 337), and the last preceding entry may refer to him, as possibly may also the two preceding that.

Thomas Terry, aged 28 years, Robert Terry, aged 25, and Richard Terry, aged 17, embarked in the "James," from London, Eng., for New England, July 13, 1635. These three men, probably brothers, all settled on Long Island, N. Y., in 1640. Thomas and Richard both settled in Southold, and Robert in Flushing. Nothing is known about Robert after 1670, when he was at Flushing. Richard's will, dated July 6, 1675, names five sons, five daughters. and his brother Thomas. There are numerous descendants of Thomas and Richard, on Long Island and elsewhere, and Mr. Stuart T. Terry, of Southold, Suffolk Co., N. Y., a descendant of both of them, is preparing a book about these families, and will be glad to receive information about them from any source.

D.

NATURAL HEIRSHIP; OR, ALL THE WORLD AKIN.

The number of man's ancestors doubles in every generation as his descent is traced upward. In the first generation he reckons only two ancestors, his father and mother. In the second generation the two are converted into four, since he had two grandfathers and two grandmothers. * * * *
To ascend no higher than the twenty-fourth generation we reach the sum of 16,777,216, which is a great deal more than all the inhabitants of Great Britain when that generation was in existence. For if we reckon a generation at thirty-three years, twenty-four of such will carry us back 792 years, or to A. D. 1093, when William the Conqueror had been sleeping in his grave at Caen only six years, and his son William II., surnamed Rufus, was reigning over the land. At that time the total number of the inhabitants of England could have been little more than two millions, the amount at which it is estimated during the reign of the Conqueror. It was only one-eighth of a nineteenth-century man's ancestors if the normal ratio of progression as just shown by a simple process of arithmetic had received no check, and if it had not been bounded by the limits of the population of the country. Since the result of the law of progression, had there been room for its expansion, would have been eight times the actual population, by so much the more is it certain that the lines of every Englishman's ancestry run up to every man and every woman in the reign of William I. from the king and queen downwards, who left descendants in the island, and whose progeny has not died out there.

* * * * *

Genealogy has curious means of planting new centers in other lands, and commencing there over again the same rapid ratio of multiplication till successive nationalities are brought into intimate relationship. Let an ancestor be brought into the English succession from another country, and since he can be shown to be in the course of a few generations related to all the people of that country, forthwith by his marriage here, the whole nation to which he belongs is brought into our succession. One Frenchman embodies in himself in miniature all the French people of past times; one negro represents all the race from which he has sprung. Ancestral germs have thus been conveyed across the sea by emigration from France, from Germany, from India, and from the remotest regions to these shores, and by these means all the people of the earth will be found at no very distant period to have been brought into close kinship with us. The Norman conquest brought in all at once a large foreign element, expediting immensely our union with the people of whom they were part. The Danish invasions did the same at an earlier age; the expatriation of the Huguenots the same much later. All the world are found akin, not by going so far back as Adam or even Noah, but within historical times.

* * * * *

The tendency to avoid kinship in marriage has helped to increase the divergence of ancestral lines. While a large proportion of the marriages consummated are between persons living in the same district, the population of the district itself is continually undergoing modification—one stream flowing in, another flowing out. No use has been made in this argument of the existence of illegitimacy, and the boundless license of many periods of our national history. Yet doubtless moral transgression has greatly widened the area of relationship, and mingled in an indistinguishable mass the offspring of the rich and poor.

* * * * *

It is often said respecting a distant relative, "He is a thirty-second cousin." The truth is perhaps that he is a second or third cousin. As to thirty-second consinship, it is startling to find that the whole human race comes within this line of consanguinity. By the ordinary unimpeded ratio at which ancestors multiply, they would amount in the thirty-second generation to 4,294,767,296; and reckoning for all the checks to this ratio through the blending of lines of ancestry, they must be reasonably estimated at the entire population of the globe, as high in fact as they can possibly go. The Kaffir and the Hottentot, the Japanese and the Chinese, are doubtless all of them the reader's thirty-second cousins, or nearer. — Henry Kendall in the Nineteenth Century, as reprinted in the Library Magazine, N. Y.
